

Running Introduces New Thermal Insulation Color

East Haven, CT (May 14, 2015) - Silent Running (www.silentcoating.com) has been known for their variety of spray on sound damping products and now the team is excited to announce their Thermal Insulation is available in a choice of 2 colors, black or white. Although the insulation can be painted over, these two color options will help save time on your project.

Morgan Schultz, Silent Running's Sales and Marketing Manager states, "various projects require various color schemes. Take a boat for example, using the Thermal Insulation in white will open up the area and give a clean look. Now when you are applying it to the hood of a car, black is more attractive- we are able to provide both options to keep heat out for a more enjoyable environment."

The Thermal Insulation can be spray, brushed, or rolled on and can be used in the interchangeable Silent Running spray gun.
